"A Christian based toy to teach the word of God"

DOUGLAS, MA – January 1, 2006 – TVC Enterprises, a Douglas, MA based Christian company has just released an educational product in the form of a 10" Plush Toy "Bear" that teaches children about the armor of God based on the bible in Ephesians, chapter 6.

Tony V. Clarizio, the founder of the company, had a vision of this concept on September 29, 2004 while working with the children's ministry at his church. Through many months of design and research, the birth of "Good News Grizzly" has been fulfilled.

The 3-fold mission of "Good News Grizzly" is to:

- (a) put the word of God as an "evangelistic toy" into the hands of children,
- (b) help other ministries raise money with the promotion of this product,
- (c) raise money to support other Christian outreach ministries.

The company is selling the product at wholesale prices to help other Christian organizations raise money as they promote the product, while at the same time helping TVC Enterprises raise money to support various ministries. The primary organization this company will support is the:
